Committee Votes To Kill Blaine's Tax Bill, 7 To 6

Governor Fails To Swing Body Despite Threats To Veto Appropriations

SOCIALISTS REFUSE SUPPORT Indefinite Postponement Is Asked By Joint Body On Third Consideration

By Associated Press
Madison—Governor Blaine's tax bill reported to the senate last week for passage, was recommended Saturday by the same joint committee on finance for indefinite postponement by a vote of 7 to 6. The measure had been referred back to the committee after charges were made in the senate that it had been railroaded through the finance body while five opposing members were absent.

The governor, using every means at his disposal, had conferred with Socialist members of the legislature in a letter to the finance committee threatening to veto large appropriations bills unless his measure were passed, but failed to change a single vote in the committee. The original six members who voted with him in the first instance held their ground but all absented themselves from the bill.

HOW THEY LINED UP
To kill the bill—Senators Kueck and Polaki, Assemblymen Matheson, Ruffing, A. E. Smith, Caldwell, and Liefke.

To pass the bill—Senators Huber, Schumann and Casperson, Assemblymen Camper, Price and Tuffey.

Assemblyman David Summerville, opposed to the measure, was ill and confined to the hospital so that he was unable to vote.

The committee report reaches the senate next Tuesday and the bill under the regular order, will go over until Thursday. So many members are in course of preparation and already to be voted that a vote on the proposition is expected to be put off until the following week.

Two Socialist members of the committee by voting against Governor Blaine's bill after their representatives had conferred with the executive is taken to indicate the opposition of their three senate members to the measure unless drastic amendments are added making a new bill in effect.

Assemblyman Thomas Luncan, and Senator J. J. Hirsch, both Socialists, had a conference with the governor Friday afternoon on his bill but refused to let the result at present.

When the finance committee met another tense two hour session was held before the members were allowed to leave their meeting the previous day, with a row. Extended debate on all features of the proposal preceded the vote.

WANT SINGLE PAYMENT
Assemblyman Ruffing, Socialist, offered an amendment providing for payment of taxes under the bill, in one installment instead of three. This is one amendment that the three Socialist members demand in exchange for their support. It was withdrawn later and upon motion of Assemblyman A. E. Matheson, Janesville, the roll was taken and the bill slated for killing.

Members of the legislature are not showing much concern over the letter of Governor Blaine threatening to veto large appropriations bills to provide for educational activities of the state unless his own tax bill is passed. Several of those on the finance committee said that it was "merely an attempt to coerce them by threats" and would not succeed.

They say that should the governor veto these bills, the legislature would not incline to stay in Madison indefinitely, but would adjourn leaving the responsibility for conditions that followed upon Governor Blaine.

SEVERSON BILL FIRST
Madison, Wis.—Senator H. L. Severson, and Speaker John L. Dahl, will appear before the joint committee on finance Monday to tell the committee what disposition they wish to have made of their two tax bills, now that Governor Blaine's measure has been recommended for indefinite postponement. It was learned Saturday.

Agreement has been reached between the two former administration leaders that the income surtax bill, sponsored by Senator Severson, should come to the floor first. Senator Severson said that he probably would ask the committee to send his measure to the senate without recommendation. Speaker Dahl, it is understood will request that his bill be held until it is determined how the surtax proposal fares in the legislature. The authors of the first, and general income tax bill introduced into the legislature, intend to wait until Governor Blaine's tax bill has been disposed of before pushing their own proposals.

BLAME FISHERMEN FOR FOREST FIRES SWEEPING STATE

Butts Of Cigarets Cause Of Blazes In Western Part Of Wisconsin

By Associated Press
LaCrosse—Dozens of bluff, forest and field fires started during an excessively long dry spell, unprecedented at this time of the year, are sweeping over thousands of acres of land in western Wisconsin.

The most serious fires are in the timber land up in the country around Millston, 20 miles north of Tomah. Many of these fires were started by trout fishermen who carelessly threw lighted butts of cigarettes and cigars on the ground along the streams. Camp fires which spread over the ground while fishermen were absent started other fires. The latter buildings have been destroyed. No rain has fallen in this section for over two weeks.

THEY'RE GOING AFTER CLARA WITH HANDCUFFS

By Associated Press
Los Angeles—Two pairs of handcuffs and a leg iron were to accompany Eugene W. Rice, undersheriff, Mr. Rice and Deputy Walter Hunter, late Saturday on their start for Tegucigalpa, Honduras, to bring back a woman under arrest there and believed to be Clara Phillips, escaped "hammer murderer."

They expected to sail Saturday on the steamship Venezuela. They hope to reach Tegucigalpa May 7 or 17, to sail for home May 20 and to reach Los Angeles again June 10.

Extradition papers, it is understood, will be sent direct from Washington.

KINSMAN GOES TO C. OF C. MEETING IN NEW YORK

Dr. D. O. Kinsman left Saturday morning for New York where he will be acting as a delegate to the convention of the Chamber of Commerce at the convention of the national chamber of commerce, which opens May 7 and continues through the week. Dr. Kinsman took the place of J. P. Frank who was appointed councillor by the board of directors, but who found it impossible to make the trip. Hugh G. Corbett, local secretary, left on Friday for the convention.

"100 PER CENT DRY," HARDING BATTLE CRY

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1923 by The Post Pub. Co.

Washington.—President Harding will enter his campaign for renomination and reelection 100 per cent dry.

Evidence of the complete swing of the president to the "dry" side of the prohibition controversy as it may affect his own political fortunes or those of the national Republican party, has been accumulating but not until this week was convincing proof given of the president's leanings.

AWAITED DECISION

When the Supreme court of the United States decided that American ships could sell liquor outside the three-mile limit until a law of congress prohibits it, the chief executive had it in his power to revoke the instructions given originally to the United States Shipping board to cease selling liquor. His first orders were issued when the legal phases of the matter were in doubt and it was natural for the president to stop the practice until a decision had been reached.

BUREAU OF RURAL CREDITS IS URGED

By Associated Press
Madison—A state bureau for the administration of a system of rural credits in Wisconsin would be established under a bill introduced in the assembly Saturday by its committee on agriculture.

The bill carries an appropriation of $200,000 to finance the activities of the bureau which would be empowered to receive applications for loans, approve same and borrow money on the credit of the state and issue bonds and certificates of indebtedness in fostering the dairy, livestock and farming industries.

The bureau would be composed of three men who would receive $4,500 annually.

By Associated Press
Columbus, O.—Columbus women Saturday officially went on a sugar strike. Housewives, meeting Friday, adopted resolutions all baring of sugar to cease purchases until the price drops.

Letters will immediately be sent to President Harding and Governor A. V. Donahay, setting forth the demands of the resolutions.

BEGIN DISCUSSION OF HIGHWAY BILLS

By Associated Press
Madison, Wis.—The state committee meets Saturday for the purpose of acting upon three highway bills pending in the legislature. These include two highway bills providing a 2 cent gasoline tax and a graduated license fee on automobiles based upon weight and the Polakowski bill, calling for a gasoline tax, a more moderate weight tax and a valuation tax. The latter is recommended by the County Boards Association and the League of Wisconsin Municipalities.

LABOR SCARCITY IS HINDERING FARMERS

By Associated Press
Madison—Conditions have been favorable for farm work during the last two weeks in Wisconsin, the crop reporting service announces. A serious shortage of farm labor is said to be hindering the farmers, however.

The report says that temperatures have been about normal with sufficient precipitation to keep the soil in good shape. Flooding of corn is said to be well under way in the southern part of the state.

Oats and barley seeding is reported to be practically completed in the southern counties and progressing rapidly in other sections, under favorable conditions. All fields where plants are above the ground look good.

Severe damage to winter wheat and rye is reported to be evident in many localities since the plants have begun to grow. Spring wheat acreage will be considerably less than last year, according to the report. Fruit trees are generally in good condition.

CHINESE APOLOGIZE FOR AMERICAN'S DEATH

Peking—General Chang Hsi Yuan, military governor of the administrative district of Chahar, has called on the American legation here and made formal apology for the attack on Dec. 11 on Samuel Sokobin, the American consul and Charles Colman, an American merchant, which resulted in the death of Colman.

This was one of the demands of the state department at Washington, but they remain to be complied with the other conditions of settlement laid down by Washington—dismissal of the chief of staff and two adjutants of Chang Hsi Yuan and the payment of an indemnity.

The two Americans, traveling by motor, were fired on by Chinese soldiers. The consul had accompanied Colman to the tax office outside of Kalgan, whence Colman was leaving for Urga with silver for exportation. Finally, adds the despatch, the Communists were ordered to leave the house, and when they refused to do so the sitting was suspended.

SOLENS END SESSION BY SPONGING NEW YORK

London—Blows were struck in the Prussian parliament at Berlin Friday during a row between Socialists and Communists, says a Central News despatch from the German capitol.

Irritated at the defeat of a vote of lack of confidence the Communists indulged in remarks that the house generally considered insulting. The Socialists took up the quarrel and blows resulted, two of these Communists being knocked down and taken from the chamber bleeding profusely.

Finally, adds the despatch, the Communists were ordered to leave the house, and when they refused to do so the sitting was suspended.

RUM FLEET USES PLANES TO AVOID COAST GUARD

New York—After having ostensibly fled from the United States coast guard cutters, the Atlantic rum fleet appeared again and are using seaplanes to get their cargo ashore it was said.

Now, however, the decision has been made. It is lawful to sell liquor outside the three-mile limit. Congress can act but hasn't. At least eight months must elapse before the law-making branch of the government is in session again and it might take even longer than that to get action on any bill to prohibit the sale of liquor on government ships for this kind of a measure would not be passed without considerable debate, especially on the economic disadvantages of putting American ships on an unequal basis with vessels flying foreign flags.

WANTS SHIPS DRY
The president made up his mind to keep the American ships "dry." Just what actuated him in his decision is not, of course, being publicly explained, but it was the first case in which Mr. Harding could have granted the "wets" a point if he had been disposed to keep free from the controversy itself and take the position that congress alone could bring about modification in the existing situation both with respect to the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead law.

Mr. Harding feels that America is committed to the dry side of the argument by a constitutional amendment and that it is his duty to carry out the spirit as well as the letter of the federal constitution which his oath of office requires him to uphold. So long as the Eighteenth amendment is in the constitution.

IF THE DEMOCRATS
If the Democrats want to take the "wet" side of the controversy, they are welcome to it—Mr. Harding will not. In his 1920 campaign he declared for law enforcement but did not discuss the subject in detail. If called upon in the next campaign, however, to defend the record of enforcement and the plans for further enforcement of the existing law, the executive will be found ready to take up the challenge. There is reason to believe, however, that the Anti-Saloon league and other "dry" organizations are well pleased with Mr. Harding's position and that they will give him their fullest support, particularly here is the slightest mistiness about the Democratic platform or nominee for the presidency.

The Democrats have been talking a good deal about the chances of capitalizing the wet sentiment in such states as New York, New Jersey and Massachusetts, Indiana and other populous sections of the country where the electoral vote is big and when combined with the electoral votes of the south, can furnish the needed majority to win. The Democratic "wet" advocates are not thinking of advocating the absolute repeal of the Eighteenth amendment but a modification of the Volstead act to permit light wines and beer. The assumption is that the solid South would stay in the Democratic fold particularly as the question of retaining a higher alcoholic content would be left to each state to decide—this is the plan the wet leaders have evolved to appeal to state rights sentiment which is traditional Democratic doctrine anywhere. If the South stayed Democratic, a few northern wet states were captured, a Democratic nominee would be insured a victory.

MAY CAUSE SPLIT
Opposed to this is the contention of the "drys" that William Jennings Bryan and his followers would desert the party under such circumstances and that the normal Democratic vote would not be met in the northern states where the issue would have to be decided. The "wets" think they would acquire enough Republican votes to offset losses.

The big development, however, is that Mr. Harding takes the dry side. Will the Democrats take the other?

LAKE STEAMERS RACE INTO SUPERIOR HARBOR

Superior, Wis.—The steamer Harvester after an exciting race the full length of Lake Superior with the steamer Schoonmaker arrived in the local harbor at 10:10 o'clock Saturday morning winning the honor of being the first vessel to arrive from a lower lake port this season.

The Schooner Schoonmaker came through the entrance just 15 minutes behind the Harvester. The ships were in sight of each other all the way up the lake.

HINT MOUNT PLANNED TO END HIS LIFE

Girl Tells Student Saw Chance To Kill Self In Class Rush

Chicago—The mystery surrounding the death of Leighton Mount, Northwestern university student, whose skeleton was found beneath a pier near Lake Michigan at Evanston on Monday, was deepened on Friday by the questioning in the state's attorney's office of more than 100 undergraduates.

After insisting for days that Mount, who disappeared in September, 1921, after taking part in a class rush, had met his death as a result of hazing and that his body had been hidden by fellow students, officials Friday night said that the theory that he committed suicide "does not now seem so improbable as it did at first."

TALKED OF SUICIDE
That a number of times during the summer of 1921 Mount had told her he was dissatisfied with conditions in his life and had a "good notion to do away with himself" was the testimony of Miss Doris Fuchs, a friend of the dead student.

The girl testified that Mount had told her the night he disappeared that the class rush with its attending excitement might give him an opportunity to "do away with himself."

"That night he warned me to keep as quiet as a snake," she said.

Mrs. J. L. Mount, mother of the dead youth, said that Miss Fuchs had told her of these conversations with her son at the time of his disappearance, but added that in her worry she probably did not give the words a great deal of attention. "Leighton talked much at all times of his life, his future and his conditions," the mother said "and possibly he may even have talked about killing himself, but we paid no attention to him."

NO HOLE IN PIER, CLAIM
A new angle to the investigation was uncovered when evidence was found that there was no hole in the plank of the pier where the skeleton was found by a boy playing "hide-and-seek" until three months after the student's disappearance. O. L. Olson, the contractor who built the pier, said he had inspected it in December, 1921, and that at that time there was no hole through which a body could have been dragged to concealment.

VIENNA IS SCENE OF FIERCE RIOTS

By Associated Press
Vienna—Violent rioting occurred in the vicinity of Favian square throughout Friday night. The trouble started when the police attempted to protect a meeting of reactionaries. The officers, charged by workmen, armed with clubs, stones and knives, used their swords to protect themselves. Thirty-eight policemen and 40 civilians were hurt, many of them seriously.

NEW YORK WETS WIN "CONSOLATION PRIZE"

By Associated Press
Washington—Coming in the midst of a renewed effort to cut off New York's liquor supply by sea the action of the New York legislature in repealing the state enforcement law which heretofore has aided toward federal enforcement within the borders of the state is looked upon here as increasing many fold the difficulties of the federal prohibition force assigned to that territory.

Speaking for the Anti-Saloon league, Wayne B. Wheeler characterized the enforcement law repeal as the "only legislative consolation prize the wets have won this year."

Milwaukeean Asks That Tax Commission Be Enjoined From Enforcement

By Associated Press
Madison—A request was made of the Supreme court Saturday by William Juncos, Milwaukee, asking that it assume original jurisdiction of an action to enjoin the Wisconsin Tax commission from enforcing the provision of the Severson law, repealing the secrecy clause of the state income tax for statute.

Attorney General Herman L. Ekers first was asked by Juncos to institute an action in behalf of the state against the tax commission in an effort to enjoin enforcement of the law repealing the secrecy clause.

This, the attorney general says, he refused to do on the ground that he considered the new statute constitutional and as the state's legal officer would be called upon to defend it against attack.

Following the refusal of the attorney general to institute the action, the request was made to the Supreme court asking that it assume original jurisdiction. An answer of the court has not yet been made. Attack is made on the secrecy clause on the ground that it is unconstitutional.

$20,000 Of New Bond Issue To Be Used In Fourth Ward School

CONSENT IS UNANIMOUS

Third Junior High School Will Be Equipped For South Side

Three junior high schools, instead of two, probably will be included in Appleton's education system, as a result of the city council's unanimous approval Friday evening of the board of education's proposal for an additional bond issue of $250,000 with which to complete its junior high school program and provide for the remodeling of the Fourth district school so that it may be used also as a junior high school.

The latter provision is to satisfy a demand of Fourth ward residents made quite early in the junior high school movement and recently pressed by educators and school officials of that district. The plan submitted by the board of education to the council calls for diverting $20,000 from the additional bond issue to the Fourth district junior high school cause.

Action taken by the common council Friday evening following a committee session, is only preliminary in nature, the next step being an initial resolution, prescribed by law, which will be moved by Theodore Berg, city attorney, and introduced in the next regular council session on May 18. The resolution will be passed, and then, after the ordinance authorizing the bond issue will be placed upon its passage.

COUNCIL UNANIMOUS
The council appeared to be very pleased over the unanimity of its action, especially since a widespread cynical doubt had prevailed on the subject. Alderman J. F. Lappen called attention to the situation that the council was more united on its decision than the board of education was in its session of nearly three hours of the common council.

Four plans were submitted by the board. Plan A made no proposals for additional money but proposed building the junior high schools without the gymnasium and auditorium wings. Plan B proposed addition of gymnasium wings to each school. Plan C proposed the addition of auditorium units to each school. Plan D included both the gymnasium and auditorium units in both schools.

It was first proposed to vote step by step on each plan to ascertain the sentiment of the school board. This proposal was opposed by Alderman J. A. Wood who suggested an informal vote upon the complete program first and then, if that failed, a vote upon the substitute plans. An informal ballot showed that all aldermen were in favor of the complete program.

NEAR BOONDING LIMIT
Proposal of another bond issue of $250,000 to finance the project led to the consideration of the city's bonding limit of 3 per cent of its assessed valuation. With an assessment of practically $25,000,000, the bonding limit of Appleton would be $1,250,000. The present bonded indebtedness, includes $71,000 in waterworks bonds, $5,000 in high school bonds and $425,000 in proposed junior high school bonds. An additional issue of $250,000 in bonds would bring the total indebtedness to $1,051,000, or $196,000 below the city's bonding limit.

The aldermen deliberated for a long time as the procedure of authorizing the bond issue, whether to issue the bonds on its own authority, or whether to submit the question to a bond issue referendum. Although several aldermen and members of the board of education expressed confidence in the people's approval of the issue, it was thought that time could be saved by proceeding without a referendum. The voters have 30 days in which to petition for a referendum on the question, which is the first step in the process of submitting the question to the voters. The voters who voted in the last general election for governor.

The recommendation that was finally submitted when the committee of the whole agreed to report was to authorize the city attorney to proceed under chapter 67 of the 1921 statutes with the issuance of $250,000 in junior high school bonds to aid in the purchase of sites, erection and equipment of two junior high schools and the remodeling and equipment of the Fourth district school so that it may be used in part for junior high school purposes. The recommendation and the city attorney will draft the initial resolution to be presented at the next meeting.

LENROOT URGED AS NOMINEE FOR VICE PRESIDENT

Wisconsin Junior Senator May Be Drafted Into Next Campaign

Special to Post-Crescent.

Washington—Friends of Senator Irvine L. Lenroot of Wisconsin here are doing all in their power to discourage the talk of nominating the Wisconsin junior senator for vice president in 1924.

Talk of Lenroot for the second place on the ticket continues to grow and many Republicans believe that he will lend the necessary strength to the C. O. P. ticket to make its triumph in the West and Middle West certain.

There seems to be very little chance that Vice President Coolidge will be renominated. It is extremely likely, observers say that Coolidge will be found contesting the senatorial race in the Bay State with Senator David I. Walsh, the first Democrat elected from Massachusetts in 50 years, who must stand for re-election next year.

All precedents are against the renomination of Coolidge. Only once since its organization has the Republican party renominated a vice president. This was in 1912 when Vice President Sherman was renominated with President Taft. Sherman died before election, however, and his place was filled by Nicholas Murray Butler.

Republican leaders, casting about for the logical vice presidential nominee believe Lenroot fills the bill better than any one mentioned. They insist that the vice presidential candidate must have the qualifications to step into the White House should anything happen to the President, as there is always the possibility of something happening, and they say Lenroot would make an admirable President.

Lenroot is notoriously the hardest worker in the Senate. He likes the activity of floor proceedings. He likes to work out knotty problems in committee, to bring clashing forces together in perfect legislation. It is inconceivable that he would ever be content with the inactivity of presiding over the senate as vice president.

However, men who know Lenroot intimately say that he feels he has a duty to perform for the same progressive forces of Wisconsin, who have twice honored him from this sphere of influence.

Pig Decided Ten Months Long Enough To Be 'Dead'

The freak of freaks has been discovered on the farm of William Zschachner, Grand Chute.

Like Mark Twain, the underminded, stunted "piger-wiger" of Farmer Zschachner, may announce to the world that the report of its demise was greatly exaggerated.

But the owner of the pig maintains that the pig was as dead as a door nail when he last looked at it ten weeks ago. Didn't he turn it over and has not the pig been without food these many weeks?

"What, then, do you make of it, Watson?" Is it the same pig? Is it in another state of reincarnation? Or did it merely have the sleeping sickness?

Puny, undersized, sickly, behind its brothers and sisters of the same litter, it had no claim on life, and yet it refused to die. Of all historical pigs, it is the most unspigish porker that ever breathed. And now, though six months old, it must begin all over again from the bottle and up.

About ten or twelve weeks ago, Mr. Zschachner sold all pigs of the litter except the one which to all appearances was dead. It was left in the pig pen without any provisions whatever. A week ago the farmer went to the pen intending to bury the pig, and—what's this!—the pig was grunting.

The animal is now receiving the same care as a new born pig and is taking to light food quite readily. It weighs about 50 to 60 pounds, having lost about 40 pounds during the metamorphosis. Mr. Zschachner is unable to account for the strange affair.

Will You Help Improve Soldier Burial Plot In Appleton Cemeteries?

There is a slow but sure response to the appeal which the Post-Crescent has made for a fund of $200 for decoration of soldier's graves. The reason so much interest is being shown, perhaps, is the fact that half of this money stays in Appleton.

The Riverside and St. Joseph cemeteries, desiring that the bodies of soldiers of the World war should lie buried amid attractive surroundings, gave a plot of ground on the line of the two cemeteries to the American Legion. Oney Johnston post has expended what money its treasury could stand toward improving the plot. But more should be done. The people of Appleton ought to take the responsibility for providing shrubbery and yearly decoration on Memorial day. Some of the soldiers who died in the World war are buried there now. A beautified plot will serve as a partial memorial.

As explained before, the other half of the fund goes to the Wisconsin department of the legion to be placed in the national fund for a perpetual means of decorating all graves in French cemeteries on Memorial day.

If you intend to help the Post-Crescent raise this fund, send your money or check today to the newspaper office, payable to Legion Graves Fund. The amounts will be turned over to the proper officers when the campaign is completed. You praised and helped the boys who came back alive. You must at least pay the customary honor to those who died. Do it in ample time for a Memorial day tribute.

Drama lovers everywhere were pleased that this celebrated tale should receive animated circulation beyond the limitation of the stage.

Under the direction of King Vidor, with a supporting cast of high abilities, and with Michael, the canine actress with the masculine name, playing her accustomed part, Laurette Taylor has finished her work before the camera. The result, advance reports indicate, is a photoplay even more interesting than the stage play. Residents of Appleton will be enabled to enjoy this poignant, heart-stirring whimsical performance next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, when it comes to the Elite Theatre for 4 days.

This story of Peg and Jerry, of England and Ireland and the O'Connells and Chichesters and Kingsworths has had 6,808 stage performances in the United States. Nor has its popularity been limited to this country. England, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India, Hawaii, Italy, Czechoslovakia and Paris have also seen and enjoyed it. The production of the photoplay by Metro enables all these fans to see the original Peg portray the role, in addition to introducing this pictured bit of loveliness and charm to those to whom it has hitherto been only a name.

The players supporting Miss Taylor in the immortalizing of Peg on the screen were selected with a view of making each characterization a living

In How Many Ways Can You Prepare Oranges?

Medical authorities everywhere agree that citrus fruits are a practical necessity in the diet.

They point out that this is one of the easiest and most palatable ways of securing for the body that essential food element—the vitamin—which is destroyed or greatly weakened by cooking.

Any of our readers may secure a free booklet giving about 200 ways in which oranges and lemons may be used attractively on the table. The recipes were prepared and tested by recognized domestic science experts. They are simple, practical, and verifiable. Try them and you will find a real demand from your family for many of the dishes described.

Simply fill out and mail the coupon below. Enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. Write your name and address clearly.

Frederic J. Huson, Director, The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Washington, D. C.

I enclose herewith two cents in stamps for return postage on a free copy of the Orange and Lemon Booklet.

BUILDING GAIN IS SWIFT BUT DEALER BUYS WITH CAUTION

Situation Is Help To Manufacturer—Strike May Curtail Fur Output

Building is increasing by leaps and bounds under the stimulus of the war, they say, not only that the need for new housing is immense but also that prospective builders are not being frightened by present costs of building. They hold the opinion that if anything limits construction activities this year it will be shortage of labor.

The lumber market meanwhile is very strong and recent soft spots are disappearing. Southern pine mills are working orders well in excess of production without having had an opportunity to clean up order files or add materially to their low and badly broken stocks. Recent demand has absorbed most of the transit cars on the market and buyers are encountering much trouble in placing their business because of the scarcity of material.

The I. W. W. strike declared on the west coast last week threatens to curtail Douglas fir output, and this has had a decidedly strengthening influence on the already strong market. Production has not yet been reduced by this factor, but woods operations have been severely hit. As there is no log surplus on the coast, this is sure to find early reflection in mill activity.

Production, shipments and bookings meanwhile remain considerably in excess of normal. Stocks are being steadily reduced by the record-breaking shipments, which, together with the fact that 134 representative mills have back orders totaling 500,000,000 feet, makes an early weakening of this market improbable.

The other softwoods occupy identically strong positions. The hardwood market is strengthening, as demand is slowly lifting itself out of the recent depression.

POLICE HANDLED 8 LIQUOR CASES

Make 22 Arrests During April For 13 Kinds Of Crime, Report Says

Various crimes, misdemeanors and offenses occupied the attention of the Appleton police department during the month of April, according to the monthly report of Chief George T. Fridm.

There were 13 different forms of lawlessness involved in the 22 arrests made by members of the police force during the month. Drunkenness played a major part, for five arrests were for drunkenness and three were for driving an automobile while intoxicated. The other arrests were as follows: Violation of speed ordinance, 2; taking automobile without owner's consent, 2; violation of game laws, 2; burglary, 1; forgery, 1; larceny, 1; child abandonment, 1; passing a street car while discharging passengers, 1; wife abandonment, 1; robbery, 1; embezzlement, 1.

In addition, three fugitives from justice were apprehended and turned over to the following authorities: Sheriff of Brown-co, sheriff of Calumet-co and police at St. Paul.

The police ambulance answered six calls covering a total of 31.6 miles and the police touring car made 123 trips with a total of 433 miles.

Mrs. Mildred Gardner, police woman, caused one arrest, supervised seven public dances, escorted home four girls below the age of 16, interviewed ten parents, secured two warrants, obtained five jobs for girls and had on May 1 three cases under investigation.

NEW LAW GIVES TAX RELIEF TO FARMER

Madison—Tax relief to settlers in northern Wisconsin is contemplated through operation of the Kamke law which went into effect with the signature of Governor Blaine. This new statute provides that in assessing agricultural land the enhanced value due to pulling of stumps and clearing of timber and stones shall not be considered. A substantial reduction in assessments is expected to result from the law which is in effect until 1935.

The Ridgeway bill providing for creation of memorial commissions in cities entrusted with management of memorials to former service men, was signed by Gov. Blaine, becoming a law. The penalty for mistreatment of children was increased to $500 for each offense by the Barker bill which became a law with the governor's signature. A bill by Assemblyman Price permitting municipalities to spend $1,000 for Memorial day exercises was signed and added to the statutes.

CONWAY HOTEL
from 10 a. m., to 4 p. m.

ONE DAY ONLY

Dr. Doran is a regular graduate in medicine and surgery and is licensed by the State of Wisconsin. He visits professionally the more important towns and cities, and offers to all who call on this trip consultation and examination free, except the expense of treatment when desired.

According to his method of coming to your nearest city to see patients he gives all sick people an opportunity to obtain the best that medical science can offer right at home. He does not operate for chronic appendicitis, gall stones, ulcers of stomach, tonsils or other chronic diseases.

He has to his credit many wonderful results in disease of the stomach, liver, bowels, blood, skin, nerves, heart, kidney, bladder, bedwetting, catarrh, leg ulcers and rectal ailments.

If you have been ailing for any length of time and do not get any better, do not fail to call, as improper measures rather than disease are very often the cause of your long standing trouble.

Remember above date, that examination on this trip will be free and that his treatment is different.

Married ladies must come with their husbands, and children with their parents.

Address: Medical Laboratory of Dr. Doran, 335-336 Boston Block, Minneapolis, Minn.

SPEAKING CONTEST OCCURS ON MAY 15

Lawrence College Will Conduct Annual High School Competition

The annual Lawrence college interscholastic competition in speaking for high school students in the state will take place at Lawrence on the afternoon and evening of May 15. Contests in both oratory and extempore speaking will be held and each school entering the contests will send a team of two students, one of whom will enter each competition. More than $700 in scholarships for Lawrence will be given as prizes in addition to the gold and silver medals and team trophy.

Preliminary contests will be held in the afternoon at which Lawrence college faculty members will be judges and the final contest will be held in the evening. The judges in the finals will include Lawrence faculty members, officials of non-competing schools and others who have been prominent in public speaking activities.

The public is always cordially invited to these events, which are planned to develop an interest in oratory and extempore speaking. To the men in the city who are often called upon to make extempore speeches, the contest which aims to develop that ability in high school students is unusually interesting.

LEGION TO SHOW NOTED MOVIE FILM

Oney Johnston post of the American legion has completed arrangements with Manager Neil Duffy of the Elite theatre to show "The Man Without a Country" at the Elite on the afternoon and evening of May 14. The proceeds from the sale of tickets is to go into the legion treasury. The legion has carried on numerous activities in recent months and as a result its funds are quite badly depleted.

Will your car match these Oakland Upkeep Figures?

Accurate records kept by Oakland in Cleveland showed an average upkeep cost on Oakland 6-44's of $8.06 per year

If YOU would know the quality of a motor car—look to its upkeep costs! In Cleveland last year it cost an average of only $8.06 per year for upkeep on Six-44's! Other cities and towns report similarly low averages!

Another excellent indication of quality is found in a motor car's resale value. Try to buy a used "Six-44"—and you'll be surprised at the high price it commands.

These definite and actual evidences of the superior quality of the Oakland car explain why Oakland is enabled to offer its remarkable "Mileage-Basis" Plan!

Before you buy a car—come in and see the Oakland! You will find it beautiful, comfortable, powerful and genuinely economical—and you'll know the minimum number of trouble-free miles you can expect to give you!

MARKING APPLETON STREETS
As far back as 1868, when there were less than a dozen streets in all Appleton and it didn't make much difference whether one knew what street he lived on, the enterprising citizens of that day thought it necessary for the guidance of the few strangers who visited the city that street name signboards be erected at intersections. The names were painted on boards which were nailed to the houses nearest the street corners. They were not much of an ornament either to the city or to the houses on which they were nailed but they did mark the streets.
Its a long cry from 1868 to 1923 but it took that long for history to repeat itself. In this year of grace the citizens of Appleton again are becoming convinced that street signs might be of some use to the stranger within our gates and possibly to the people who live in Appleton. Chairman Beske of the streets and bridges committee of the common council has announced that a plan for renumbering certain city streets, renumbering of the buildings and erection of street signs, is being worked out and soon will be presented to the council.
Renaming of streets, renumbering of buildings and erection of street signs has been agitated for several years. The people want this work done and they want it done as quickly as possible. They want a system that is simple and understandable and most of all they want the streets marked so that he who reads may know where he is. Mr. Beske and his committee will find no lack of support among the people if they urge immediate action.

A RAILROAD'S SERVICE TO AUTO-MOBILE DRIVERS
It is better to be safe than to be sorry. This simple logic is very ably expressed in a "safety first" pamphlet published by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway company. The safety bureau of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway is to be highly commended for its move to protect the public and particularly automobile drivers from the hazards which result from their lack of precaution.
A portion of the pamphlet is given over to the explanation of all the standard safety signs and signals. Every sign is very clearly illustrated. The explanations are not confined to railroad safety signs alone for they include the standard highway signs such as are now used in the state of Wisconsin and in the city of Appleton. One portion of the pamphlet is addressed to the automobile driver and calls his attention in a forcible manner to the fact that there were 12,000,000 automobiles and trucks registered in the United States last year; that 43,070 automobile accidents occurred every day in the year; that automobiles killed 38 people every day and that of every four people killed one was the occupant of the car, and three were not. It stresses the point that you can cross every railroad track in perfect safety at any time if you will obey the warning signals, stop your car and take no chances. It calls the automobile driver's attention to the fact that his or her life and the lives of others are dependent upon his or her thought, care and attention while driving the car. Signals placed at crossings are there for the purpose of preventing accidents and saving human lives. If you are in sympathy with this purpose then be alert, awake, and pay strict heed and attention to all warning signs.

This safety first pamphlet issued by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway company should have a tremendous effect. It is being distributed from coast to coast by the employees and agents of this great railway system. It may be obtained from any station master or office of the company and at the present time is being given as wide a distribution as is possible through the effects of its own organization.

AVERAGE OF INTELLIGENCE
Prof. Forrest A. Kingsbury, psychologist of the University of Chicago, appears to have an intellectual moroseness complex as to American intelligence. He states that the average is declining lower and lower, and he is sad-hearted concerning the future of American citizenship.
Prof. Kingsbury calls attention again to the wornout deductions of the tests of 1,750,000 soldiers' mentality in the late war. That the tests proved nothing, and that such tests are ridiculous and can prove nothing, does not occur to him. It is too bad that there is not some test to gage the intelligence of psychologists.

America is wonderfully supplied with excellent schools, colleges and universities. The object in having institutions of learning is not to create an "aristocracy of brains," but to raise the general average of intelligence among all the people.
Republican government, which is government by the people, cannot exist where the masses are ignorant. The soviet, for example, is driving the intellectuals out of Russia, for fear that they will educate the people, and the people will procure representative government.

As religion is the foundation of morals, education is the foundation of popular government. All the schools, colleges and universities of the United States are teaching the most valuable type of citizenship, as opposed to ignorance.
If all of these institutions cannot raise the average of intelligence, what can? The answer to that question is that the psychologists are given to speculating on theory. The absurd results of the tests only prove that the tests are worthless.

CONSOLIDATION OF RAILROADS
The Interstate Commerce commission is holding hearings in the principal cities on the suggested plan for consolidating the railroads of the United States into a few big, powerful groups. Railroad executives, commercial organizations and business interests are opposed to the scheme. However, they are wasting their time, as it is inevitable that a number of consolidations will be effected.
Those cities are wise which are not antagonizing the consolidation idea, but which are protecting their rights and advantages and which are attempting to secure rightful benefits. Instead of denouncing the idea, they seek to have it worked out properly, and so that they will gain, rather than lose.

The suggested plan, which was formulated by Prof. William Z. Ripley, of Harvard university, is conceded by experts to be, in the main satisfactory, as far as trunk line territory is concerned, this territory being the region lying north of the Ohio river, from New York and the Atlantic seaboard generally to Chicago, St. Louis and the Mississippi river. Experts deem it to be theoretical and impracticable, to a great extent, in its application to the whole country lying west of the Mississippi, and, in a measure, to the southeast.
Consolidation of railroads into a number of great groups is certain to come. Cities, business interests and states should see that it is done in the right way.

WEANING WITHOUT A STRUGGLE
It is best to wean a well baby any time after he is 6 months old. It is a serious matter to wean a baby only a month or two old. The best age for weaning is 8 to 10 months. Few American mothers can nurse a baby successfully after he is 10 months old. No mother should wean her baby under 6 months of age if she can give him even two breast feedings a day. If the baby is accustomed to taking water from a bottle from the beginning, and after the first few months perhaps modified milk if nursing alone is insufficient, the mother will find the weaning problem simplified and solve it without struggle. Neither the season of the year nor the phase of the moon should be considered. Weaning is as safe in hot weather as in any other season, provided the cow's milk to be given the baby is clean and the household can afford proper refrigeration. The old time fear of weaning in the summer months was occasioned by infantile diseases due to uncleanness.
It is best to wean by giving the baby one more bottle by feeding and one less breast feeding each day or two, so that breast feeding is discontinued by the end of about ten days. Once it has been discontinued, the best results are obtained by adhering to the program of giving the bottle feedings by the clock and never resuming breast feeding even for a single occasion. The mother should wear a comfortable but not tight bandage or braiser for support for a week, and then give the breasts no further attention. Any kind of interference only prolongs lactation and adds to the annoyance of weaning.
It is well to start the baby on a modified milk formula which is perhaps weaker than a baby of his age might be expected to take, and to increase the strength of the formula a little every few days until he takes the proper modification for his age and condition. Thus a baby weaned at the age of 8 months should be given a modified milk formula which would ordinarily be given to a baby of 4 months.
The superstition about the "second summer" is just another way of saying "dirty milk," or uncleanly handling of the milk or the utensils in preparing it. The "second summer" is a dangerous time for the baby, indeed, the dirty old days of the nursing bottle with the rubber hose on it, when files were deemed cheerful company and "teething" accounted for almost any illness that befell the baby.
The breast fed baby sometimes suffers from overfeeding, shown by regurgitation of part of the milk immediately after nursing, the baby perhaps spitting out more or less curdled milk without apparent discomfort, now and then suffering a diarrhea, and maybe refusing the breast or nursing but a few minutes, which is of course the best treatment for what ails him. Overfeeding calls for more outdoor exercise for the mother. It is a common mistake and quite the wrong thing, to offer the baby the breast when he cries, which mother-or-nurse interprets as hunger. The nursing schedule should be maintained by the clock, and the overfed infant rather restricted to five minutes of nursing. Ecze-ma in young nursing infants is often a result of overfeeding, excitation of the skin about the buttocks associated with diarrhea.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Meat And Water
Harmful to eat meat and drink water at the same meal?—A. E.
Answer—Not if you are hungry and thirsty.
Swim And Grow Graceful
Desire to become a trifle plumper, but my family tell me I swim too much. In the winter months I swim in an indoor pool, and in the summer time in the lake. I am 62 inches tall and weigh 118 pounds. I am 22 years old. Miss B. B.
Answer—The swimming is all right. You should weigh eight to ten pounds more. Suggestions for gaining weight will be mailed you on receipt of your request and a stamped envelope bearing your address.

Hundreds Rewarded By Carnegie Fund For Heroes
(Stuart Mackenzie, in The American Magazine.)
Courage knows neither sex, nor age, nor race, nor calling. Wealth cannot buy it, nor poverty prohibit it. Neither the learned nor the unlearned have any monopoly of it. The strong sometimes possess it—but not always. And those who are most frail in body may have the bravest spirit. It is strange. And it is one of the most beautiful things in the world.
For two days I have been reading stories of heroism about 1,800 of them! Stories of men, women and children who risked their lives, in many cases laid down their lives, to save others. In so doing, they have won the badge of courage.
These stories are told in the records of the Carnegie hero fund commission established 19 years ago and which has its headquarters in Pittsburgh. In a deed of trust, dated March, 1904, he provided for the creation of the commission and transferred to it $5,000,000 in bonds of the United States Steel corporation. The income from these bonds, $250,000 a year, was to be used to pay the expense of conducting the commission and in rewarding acts of heroism, according to a plan which Mr. Carnegie clearly outlined.
One of the things which he specified was what should constitute "an act of heroism." To be eligible to that distinction he must have risked his life when he had no duty or obligation to do so.
I wonder, for example, what you would have done if you had been in the place of Charles F. Lentino, at 1 o'clock in the morning of Oct. 5, 1908, in New York City. Lentino—an American-born Italian, 22 years old—happened to see a woman carrying a four-story tenement house in Mulberry-st. He didn't live there. None of his own folks lived there. A fire in that tenement was "no business" of his.
But he made it his business. He ran into the hallway and tried to reach the door of the rear rooms, but the smoke and flames drove him back. Through the smoke he ran up the stairs and kicked open the door of the rear rooms, rousing their occupants. Then to the front apartment, where a woman came to the door. She was in her night clothes, so Lentino put his own coat around her and helped her down to the street.
He could not get back up the stairs, so he climbed a water spout to a sloping ledge about one foot wide, where he was close to a window. There he helped Mary Shallow to reach the fire escape on the adjoining building from which she could go down to the pavement. Lentino then climbed to the third floor, broke a window, climbed through and rescued three children from an adjoining room.
He went again to the third floor, got another child and carried it down to where he could drop it to men standing on the sidewalk. Back to the third floor again! The mother of the rescued children was ill at the time.

Lentino helped her down and dropped her to the men below. He helped her husband, too. Then he climbed to the fourth story, where he assisted a whole family and two other men to escape. By this time smoke and flames were pouring out below him and he thought he would have to jump—from the fourth story!—when the firemen arrived with a ladder, by which he escaped. Fourteen persons in the building were burned to death. Lentino rescued 19 men, women and children from a like fate.
These reported cases are investigated and all the evidence is carefully weighed. If the case is granted, the next thing is to decide on the award to be given. In every instance the hero or heroine receives a medal—gold, silver or bronze. There have been only 18 gold medals awarded. None has been given for any act performed during the last nine years. Four hundred and eighty-three silver medals have been granted.
But Mr. Carnegie realized that even a gold medal would not put bread into the mouths of children whose father had died to save others. He wanted these acts of "glorious folly" to have an aftermath of practical benefit. So he directed that sums of money should be given, where needed, to be used for a worthy purpose. In many cases, of course, money is not needed and is not given.
Drake Was Bitter Enemy Of Spain
(Ricardo Fernandez Guardia, in La Revue de l'Amerique Latine, Paris.)
In the days of her grandeur, Spain had no bitter enemy than Sir Francis Drake, the fearless sea rover who, through his exploits, became one of the most famous of Queen Elizabeth's admirals. A pupil of his relative, Sir John Hawkins and a corsair no less daring than he, Drake was one of the founders of England's naval power and the first sailor of his nation to circumnavigate the globe—a feat that Magellan and Sebastian del Cano had accomplished 58 years before.
Such was his hatred of the Spanish that he was wont to say: "Whether there be peace or war between Spain and England, there will always be war between Drake and the supporters of the Inquisition."
These words might make it seem that religious fanaticism was the sole reason for his hatred but there was another, Drake never forgave the defeat that he experienced at the hands of the Spaniards at San-Juan-de-Ulloa in 1585, when he was the very youthful captain of the Judith, a defeat that involved the loss of all that he possessed. His revenge was terrible and it is not too much to say that he devoted to it all that remained of his life.

Q. 'When was alfalfa first grown?'
G. E. H.
A. Alfalfa hay has been cultivated in Europe for more than 2,000 years and in 1854 it was brought from Chile to California, whence it spread rapidly over the semi-arid regions of the Pacific and Rocky Mountain States.
Q. How small a vessel can get a license to operate? W. F.
A. The lowest tonnage a ship may have in order to obtain a license to operate is 5 tons net.
Q. What is the record for circling the bases? S. T. S.
A. The record for circling the bases of a baseball diamond is 13 4-5 seconds made by Maurice Archdeacon, Rochester International Club, Rochester, New York, 1921.
Q. What does McIntosh mean? J. A. McI.
A. The name "McIntosh" is from the Gaelic Mac Antoisiche, meaning "son of the chief or prince." The first record of the name occurs in 1396. Burke deduces the name to have descended from Sheagh or Shaw, the second son of Duncan Macduff, third Earl of Fife, who acquired the designation "Mac-in-tosh."
Q. Is the assertion "Cleanliness is next to Godliness" in the Bible? J. M. B.
A. The phrase is not found in the Bible. It is an excerpt from a sermon by the Rev. John Wesley, the founder of Methodism.
Q. Can Brazil nuts be raised in this country? C. E. O.
A. The Department of Agriculture says that the growing of Brazil nut trees has proved unsuccessful in the United States. However, there are a few grown in the extreme southern parts of Florida and California.
Q. What is meant by an ell in the saying, "Give him an inch he'll take an ell"? K. L. C.
A. The ell is an English unit of measure equal to 45 inches.
Q. When was a ball first used for games? F. L. L.
A. The ball was known to the Greeks and celebrated in the Odyssey. It was not only used as an aid to outdoor activity, but had its place in the Greek gymnasium as an aid to grace and elasticity of figure.
Sell Eyelashes For $1 A Pair
Eyelashes are not the least bit of use unless they are long and drooping. Now if yours are the short and stubby kind, or the kind that can hardly be seen because of the sparse growth do not be discouraged. In New York, beauty doctors are selling eyelashes for $1 a pair. You can have them ready-made or made to order. A more effective kind of eyelashes are longer at the center and tapering toward either end of the eye, are a little more expensive, selling for $2.50 and $3 a pair. There's not an actress on the stage or screen that does not use them, they tell you. Easy to wear, neatly brushed affairs that stick where you want them, are fashioned to measure in the twinkling of an eye.
Poland Made Fine Recovery
(Special Correspondent, in The London Times.)
In these bad times one can derive some comfort from the fact that there is a country in the middle of Europe, with about 30,000,000 inhabitants, which is becoming more prosperous and increasing its production from month to month.
This country is Poland. One can shake one's head over Poland's finances and political squabbles but its economic revival is a thing to wonder at. Two years ago it was slowly recovering from the ravages of the Great war. Then came the Bolshevik invasion. The Red army took or destroyed half the harvest and carried off immense quantities of stock, leaving the country again in an exhausted condition. Already these losses have been practically repaired.
Agriculture is flourishing. The country can feed itself. In eastern Galicia the belt devastated by the campaigns of Brusiloff in 1916 scarcely shows the signs of war. Even the districts to the east of Brest-Litovsk, to which the refugees were returning in 1921 to find their villages burned and their fields covered with six years' growth of birch saplings are beginning to be self-supporting.
Trade and industry are developing fast. The textile mills of Lodz and Bialystok produce more than they did before the war. The coal mines are up to pre-war pitch except in Silesia. Fresh industries are springing up, based largely on the timber resources of the country. For instance, Poland has begun to appear in the field as a rival of the Scandinavian countries in the export of matches. Manufactured goods from Lodz and Poznan are bought even in Brazil and the United States.

Actors In Play Using New Ideas

Preparation For "Alice-Sit-by-the-Fire" Has Been Thorough

With the change in educational methods there has also come a change in the way in which students are trained to appear in productions on the stage. Time was when the actors and actresses learned their lines and then learned to act them when and how the director told them to. The cast of "Alice-Sit-by-the-Fire," J. M. Barrie's play, which will be presented at Lawrence Memorial chapel on Tuesday evening under the direction of Prof. J. W. Orr has been trained in the most modern methods of play production and the finished presentation will demonstrate what the added advantages are.

At Lawrence, those who are chosen for the all college play are required to register for the play production class. This class includes not only those in the cast but many others who will take care of details of production. The first few weeks of class work are given to a study of the technical details including scenery, costumes, properties, lighting, publicity and advertising. The class is divided into committees to take charge of these phases of the work and to give reports on their work.

Organization of the entire work of the production is outlined and the chairman of committees have charge of the details. For "Alice-Sit-by-the-Fire," Prof. F. W. Orr is director assisted by Mrs. Orr, Albert Franke is the business manager and he is assisted by William Wright. Paul Ungrodt is in charge of the publicity. Paul Conrads is assistant stage manager. Frank Van Wyk has charge of properties. Albert Ogden of scenery. Helen Cooper of costumes and Frances Peacock of decorations.

Stunts advertising the play were put on by the cast at the college and the high school on Friday morning.

The SUPER-SMOKELESS Furnace burns cheap soft coal without filling the neighborhood with smoke and soot.

The smoke is consumed as fuel by the scientifically designed furnace. All the gases and carbon in the fuel are utilized for the generating of heat.

You burn less coal to heat your house with the SUPER-SMOKELESS and you also get rid of the disagreeable smoke—something no other furnace can do.

CHIMNEY 220 FEET HIGH TO BE BUILT AT KIMBERLY MILL

Oshkosh Company Is Given Contract By Kimberly-Clark Company

Special to Post-Crescent
Kimberly—C. B. Meyer & Sons Co. of Oshkosh, has been awarded the contract by Kimberly-Clark company to build a tall chimney 220 feet high at its papermill here. The stack will replace the present chimney, which is 100 feet high.

It is the company's plan to build the stack on the land formerly occupied by the groundwood mill. The mill has been torn down and the machinery shipped to the Kimberly-Clark mills at Niagara, Wis., and Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Most of the summer will be required to erect the huge chimney. It will be among the highest in the Fox River valley.

PAY FINE

Fred Gustman was arrested at a o'clock Monday morning for running his car without lights in the village limits. He pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace Joseph Sandhofer and paid a fine and costs.

Clarence Fleweger, general merchant, has purchased a motor truck for delivery. He is the last of the merchants to do away with the old horse and wagon.

Miss Gertrude Holtz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Holtz, has accepted a position as stenographer in the city hall at Milwaukee. She began her duties Monday morning.

BUILD HOMES

Kimberly Real Estate company has begun its building activities for the summer. Several new homes will be erected. Jacob Lemers will have a large house built for him on the south river and Joseph Stevens is to have a new home on Kimberly-Clark. The company also is building a home for Henry DeGroot at Little Chute.

Richard Casper, street commissioner, and his crew, is busy cleaning up the village and hauling away rubbish and ashes.

FARMERS LEAVING MADISON FOR HOME

Absence Will Be Felt With Important Bills Pending In Legislature

Madison—With the advent of spring, legislators' minds are turning to thoughts of other things than their task here, it is developing.

The farmer members of the assembly, 52 strong are asking for leaves of absence in considerable force so that they may get back to the soil while the spring work is being done. Their absence will be keenly felt as the session nears its end, with the important bills to be disposed of.

A general unrest is beginning to be noticeable among members now that warm weather has appeared, the veteran legislators say. They hope that this will cause a disposition to hurry along the session.

Committee hearings are practically at an end, the bulletin for the coming week show. But few of the committees have calendars and those that have are to consider a small number of unimportant bills.

In the joint committee on finance the Garvey bill providing old age pensions is to have a hearing on Wednesday. On Thursday that committee will hear the Huter bill to transfer the auto license division of the secretary's office to Waupun, to be placed under the board of control. The Teasdale bill to establish college courses in normal schools is before the finance committee on Friday.

EXPRESS COMPANY WON'T GIVE UP HORSES HERE

The American Railway Express company has installed motortruck service at Janesville. This was made necessary by the expiration of a lease on a barn adjoining the company's office, where the horses are kept.

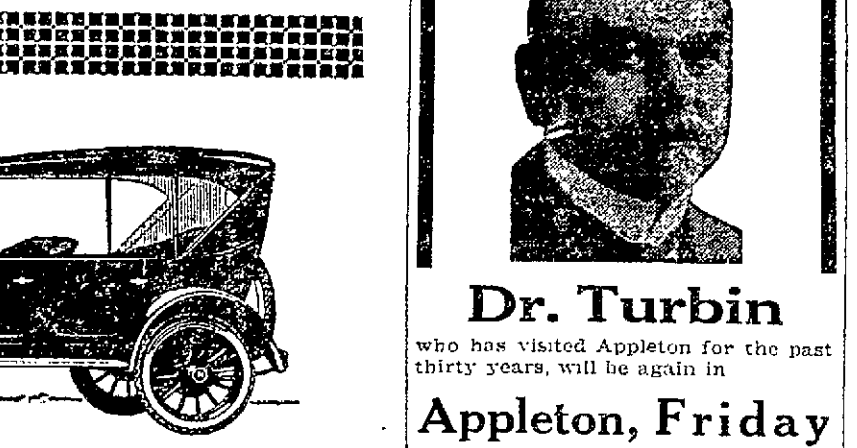

Horses still are used in Appleton by the company for delivering and according to W. N. Kimball, local agent there is little possibility of their being replaced as long as quarters can be secured.

Six horses are used for delivery in Appleton. They escaped death in the fire that damaged Dr. William Madison's barn on Washington-st Wednesday night. For several years they were boarded at the barn of C. F. Smith Livery & Transfer company which disposed of its horses some time ago.

Little Planning Will Save Time And Money For Woman Who Bakes

BY MRS. M. A. WILSON

Baking homemade goodies does not take so much time if the entire amount of work is planned ahead of time, assembling all materials, utensils and pans used for baking. Having sets of pans that will fill the entire oven space is an economy of time in baking and a saving in fuel. I have worked out a schedule that will give good results if followed.

1. Sift flour in pan or large bowl.

2. Bring to table, sugar, salt, baking powder, spices, flavoring, nuts, raisins.

3. Bring to table, eggs, butter or other shortening, milk and water.

4. Assemble mixing bowl, bowls for separating eggs, egg beater, spoons, pans, baking sheet, cookies cutters, rolling pin, pastry board.

5. Select pans of suitable size; grease well with lard or other good shortening, and dust with flour.

6. Hot oven and regulate to moderate temperature, except for recipes calling for slow oven.

7. Measure amount of flour in recipe, add baking powder, sift.

8. Measure sugar and place in bowl, and proceed with recipe.

When planning to bake several dishes, use same utensils for mixing without wasting the time to wash each utensil used as for example:

Mix sufficient pastry to last four days, wrap in wax paper and place in refrigerator to be used when needed (it takes but ten minutes to make pie when pastry is prepared beforehand).

Scrape bowl clean and mix cake; mix cookie in the bowl after cake; mix ginger bread after cookies; clean up while materials are baking. If the housewife will plan to make a batch of bread at this time, she can arrange to work in the bread in this manner:

Set bread about 10:30 p. m., and put in cool place to rise overnight. About 7 a. m. punch bread down well and turn over, then form into loaves right after breakfast. Just before starting to mix, place the bread in the oven and bake, then commence to mix for the semi-weekly baking. If this schedule is followed, the baking and cleaning up of the kitchen will be finished by 11:30 a. m.

Meat intended for the evening meal, that will require long, slow cooking, can be started at this time, as may the cooking of beets and other vegetables.

Adventures Of The Twins

The Wrong Package

"Ha, ha, ha, ha," laughed Mr. Tingaling, the fat jolly landlord of the Land of Dear Knows Where.

The Land of Dear Knows Where is a big place for it takes in Whispering Forest, Bright Meadow, Old Orchard, Lily Pond, Ripple Creek, and ever so many other places, just as the United States includes a lot of States.

Well Mr. Tingaling was the landlord of all of them and he was laughing. He was laughing because he was happy and he was happy because he'd got a present.

Nancy and Nick had left it for him at his house in the Blueberry Patch. And here's what the present was. A pair of magical glasses that could see through a stone-wall or a mud-bank, or anything. A most useful thing for a landlord whose tenants sometimes pretended they were not at home when he went for his rent.

"Well, well," smiled Tingaling. "I'll put these on and go to Corney Coon's house right away. I've nearly rung his door bell out of joint, but he never answers it. I'll bet he's home all right, but he doesn't wish to see me. Now that I have my magic glasses, we'll soon find out!"

So saying, Mr. Tingaling hooked his magic glasses behind his ears and started off.

"Why what's this?" he cried suddenly. "I can't see a thing! Where did all this fog come from? The sun was out like a bon-fire a minute ago."

He didn't know that the fog was in his glasses. He had gotten the smoked glasses by mistake—the glasses intended for Buskins, the apple tree fairy.

SURPRISE POTATOES

By Bertha E. Shapleigh

When potatoes are old they need more careful cooking to make them tasty. These surprise croquettes are always enjoyed.

Prepare two cups of mashed potatoes, one egg yolk and one-half cup of creamed peas, chicken or any bits of vegetables or meat left over.

Add the egg yolk to the mashed potatoes, being sure that the potatoes are very well seasoned. To a large spoonful, hollow in the center, add a little of the creamed vegetable or meat. Carefully work the potato over the filling, being sure that it is completely covered. Shape into cylinder form, dip into beaten white of egg to which two tablespoons of milk have been added, roll in fine bread crumbs and fry in deep fat until a golden brown. Or these may be dipped in egg and then into buttered crumbs and baked in a hot oven.

CHICKEN SALAD

Mix the following ingredients: Two cups cold boiled or roasted chicken, one celery cut into thin slices, two pimientos cut into dice, one cup almonds or English walnuts browned in the oven and cut into slices, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon paprika, one eight teaspoon pepper, four table spoons salad oil, two tablespoons vinegar. Let this mixture stand in a cold place for one hour.

Arrange one head lettuce in a salad bowl, place chicken in center and garnish with one cup mayonnaise or cooked dressing.

YOUR COMPLEXION IS JUST WHAT YOU MAKE IT

MARTHA LORBER HAS THE BEAUTY THAT BELONGS TO NO PARTICULAR AGE OR CLIME. SHE MIGHT HAVE SERVED AS A MODEL FOR ONE OF THE OLD MASTERS QUITE AS WELL AS FOR ONE OF THE DECORATIVE FEATURES OF THE POLITIES. SHE COULD STEP INTO THE COSTUMES OF ANY PERIOD AND MAKE THEM BELONG TO HER. HER TYPE OF BEAUTY NEVER COMES IN OR OUT OF FASHION—IT IS ETERNAL.

By Mme. Helene Rubinstein

The shape of your nose or the size of your eyes are matters beyond your control, but your complexion is what you make it.

You can bring it to the point of loveliness where it suggests duchess satin or you can allow it to deteriorate until it seems to have taken the swiss cheese for its model.

In windy countries such as Australia or New Zealand, I have seen girls of 16 more wrinkled than women of 60 should be, and in Paris I have seen grandmothers with ravishing skins.

As you know, the skin is composed of layers of cells with little blood vessels, nerves and glands whose ducts lead to the surface and eliminate in pores.

Every cell should contain a certain amount of moisture as this is the natural skin food with which the tissues are kept soft and supple. If anything internal or external interferes with this moisture the skin is robbed of its nourishment and dryness ensues and lines follow.

A dry skin is caused by impoverished blood, nervousness or some times by climatic conditions.

For a dry skin I suggest the following in treatment each night: First cleanse the skin thoroughly with cold cream. Leave this on for a few moments so it may soften the surface and draw from the pores any impurities they may harbor. Then when you have removed the cream, press in a mild skin stimulant with the fingers or with warm compresses. Then put in and massage with a rich skin food, using sweeping movements covering both face and throat.

I do not approve of water for the dry skin or do I advocate using nothing but cream for cleansing. My reason is that the dry skin is always irritable and unless some cooling liquid is used it will become overheated and develop a tendency to blotchiness.

The ideal method of cleansing the tender skin is to use a cream night and morning and at all other times a non-drying but slightly astringent tonic. This tones the tissues which might be inclined to flabbiness and helps you preserve your contour and maintain the firmness as well as the freshness of your face.

Models Show How You Look As You Dance

BY MARIAN HALE

New York — We have mannequins to show us how we ought to look in our clothes, and now comes the "dancequins" to show us how we ought to look in dancing poses.

Lorette Young, chief dancing instructor at New York's largest dance hall, has long believed that dancing would be improved if we could just see ourselves as others see us.

So she has introduced the dance quins, a loosely jointed mechanical doll that can be made to show the gyrations of the modern dance.

"With my dolls I can show beginners the steps that are difficult for them and demonstrate the right and wrong way for them," she explained.

Miss Young's pupils are always grown-ups, never children. More people over 25 are dancing today than under, she explains.

"And the grown-ups usually have a definite knowledge of the kind of dance they want to learn before they begin," she told me. "Or else they want to know what a dance looks like before they learn it. With the dancequins I can show them."

"I have tall dolls and short ones, fat and slender. Often I am able to convince a couple that the dance they want to learn is not the one best suited to their physiques by showing how dolls similarly built would look doing it."

"I can plainly demonstrate that the long gliding steps of the tango should be done by tall slender people and that the "Balconades," a new dance, is more effective for the short.

"A dance that is equally effective for Jack Spratt or his wife is the Swiss waltz, danced to "Lovely Lu-cerne." It has much of the old-fashioned grace without the frills, and yet it has modern pep as well."

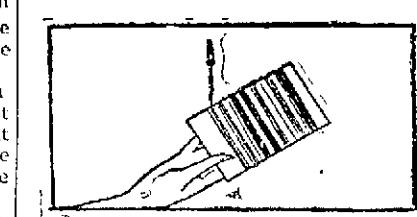

Miss Young has had pupils from every state in the Union. She can tell the westerner from the New Englander by what he wants to dance, without waiting for his attack on the r's.

"It is the people from the middle west who want the extreme dances," she says. "They demand the 'Ritz,' for instance, where the dancers stand in one place throughout the entire dance, or the 'Low-Down,' a fox trot with dips to the floor where the dancers rise to full height, shimmying."

Household Suggestions

LINGERIE GIFT

An ordinary correspondence card wrapped with delicate colored lingerie ribbons in appropriate lengths is generally an appreciated contribution to a lingerie shower. Attach an ivory bodkin to one of the ribbons.

MORE TIME FOR VEAL

When cooking veal remember that it should be well done and that it requires more time over the fire than a piece of mutton or beef of the same size.

POLISHING COPPER

If the copper tea kettle is tarnished

an application of salt and lemon juice will restore its original burnish.

KITCHEN TABLE

Since much of our work is done at the kitchen table, you should have it at just the correct height. If too low, have it built up, or if too high shorten it. Your table makes a great deal of difference in the way you will feel at the end of the day.

Florida Girl Is Champion Under Study

New York—Is the ingenue ill? Has the leading lady eloped with the villain?

Is the tragedienne's appearance prevented by a temporary incurable attack of temperamentalism?

In such contingencies what can a treasured producer do?

It's simple! He sends for Virginia Millman, "the understudy girl."

Miss Millman, a native of Florida, invaded the land north of the Mason Dixon line a half dozen years ago. She is distinctly a specialist. In one season it's a matter of course for her to have two dozen roles at her tongue's end. When a feminine member of one of the productions where she is official understudy is anywhere but in her costume at the given moment, a hurry call is made and before anyone in the east knows just what has happened, Virginia Millman is standing in the wings smiling sweetly and saying, "Here I am."

Recently this remarkable young woman memorized 60,000 words, the feminine roles of four Broadway productions, which, if she cared to recite them, would take exactly 16 hours and 40 minutes.

"Some conversation," observed Miss Millman. "Of course, there's more of a task than merely memorizing the words. First I look over a given role page by page and photograph it on my memory. Then I read the lines over and over until I feel the part—live it—and have attained my ears to every spoken word."

"My mother says I used to dramatize Mother Goose. I commenced acting at the ripe age of three, sum-mers and have continued ever since."

"My first fling at understudying was in Jacksonville, Fla. The lead-temper plus temperament—so, as I knew the lines partly—sketchily—I jumped in where angels fear to tread." A most ambitious part—the lead in "Divorçons." They told me that I read every line effectively," she laughed reminiscently, "but I couldn't have said myself whether or not I said a single word."

"I've understudied whole productions of such stars as Jane Cowl, Florence Nash and, Madge Kennedy. Usually I've appeared in every role in the plays at least one in a season. At the beginning of the season, I have exact duplicates of the stars' gowns made. Oh, endless work, it

Of Those Who Have Been Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Milwaukee, Wis.—"I had a bad pain in my left side and I could not lift anything heavy without having a backache. I tried different things. Then I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the newspapers and began taking it as the directions said. I feel very good now and can do all my work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to all my friends, and you can use my testimonial letter."—Mrs. HATTIE WARZON, 870 Garden St., Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

"Low Price" is all right, but not "Low Quality"

Willard sells low-priced as well as higher-priced batteries.

But they all have the same quality of materials and workmanship. The difference is first in size or capacity, then in insulation, because Threaded Rubber costs more than wood.

We have a wider price range for good batteries than anyone.

Be Frank With Your Banker

Should circumstances make it advisable for you to go to your banker for a loan, go to him openly and fearlessly. Lay your proposition before him and show him why you require the money. All transactions and communications are held in strict confidence.

The Banker may be able to give you some valuable pointers on the very thing that you desire to accomplish. His wide experience and special training give him the qualifications necessary to judge wisely on business problems. Feel free to consult the officers of the First National at any time.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF APPLETON

Tuscadero shook his head. "He sure put one over on the old man that time," he murmured. "That's that! He's a smart one. He's got for me down at the hotel. I'll buy it back in town. You go along to the Rancho."

Basilio hugged Basie tightly as he uttered this dictum.

Later pulled up his horses at the patio gate.

Basilio waved his hand as Basie walked a few paces past the corral. Mariano, the mozo, lounged against the barn. He took of his hat to Kildare.

"Bad times, these, for the Buena Vista," Basie said to him.

"Madre de Dios, but yes."

"What would you do if the 'dick' man came?" Basie asked apprehensively.

"At night the gate was shut. Señor I sleep outside the Senorita's door."

"Good! Here is a little present for you, Mariano." Kildare took the six gun Tuscadero had lent him from his holster, and handed it to the old man. The servant's eyes fairly glittered. He had long since respaired of ever seeing to the dignity of possessing a gun of his own.

CHAPTER XVIII. MASTER AND COWPUNCHER

A broad grin spread over the face of the Big Boss when Kildare told him of Bodine's injunction. Kildare wondered just what amused him so much.

Morrow hailed Basie as he came out. Tomorrow was the Fourth of July.

"Suppose you're goin' down to Colocunda with the boys," he grumbled. Cash's tone showed plainly enough his lack of pleasure in the coming day.

Kildare shook his head. A dance in his present frame of mind, held no lure for him.

By supper-time the specter of Bodine had become so menacing that Basie decided to ride down to the Rancho. He waited until the boys had left and then silently followed them.

Dawn had found him lying sleepily on the little mesa that rose back of the hacienda. He had had his vizor for nothing. It was after seven when he rode by the Rancho.

He saw a table set with white napery, thin plates, heavy silver, and delicate, cream-colored porcelain. Daintiness, cleanliness, ancestry all spoke there.

My Man whinnied. Basilio heard him and jumped down from the wide portico.

"I know you be here today, Mr. Basie," he called as he ran toward Kildare. "I tell Mercedes you come this morning."

CHINESE BUYING BIBLES

By Associated Press
Shanghai—Chinese in China paid $37,995 (Mexican) for bibles in 1922, buying last year more bibles than in any previous year, according to reports given out in Shanghai by the agency of the American Bible society. The sum paid is some $400 (Mexican) above the previous high mark, and the record number of bibles issued was 19,326.

That the so-called anti-Christian movement has awakened a new interest in the Scriptures in China is attested by the fact that in 1922 a half dozen book shops in Peking alone sold more than 2,000 Bibles and New Testaments to the value of $1,200 (Mexican). It is said those went almost exclusively to non-Christians, largely students in the government schools.

A total of 1,947,326 volumes were circulated in China by the American Bible society. These were in 16 languages and dialects of the country, and in eight foreign tongues.

WISCONSIN STATE LEAGUE OPENS BALL SEASON SUNDAY

Several Hundred Fans Expected To Accompany Local Team To Menasha

Lane Is Chosen Moundsman For Papermakers—Rush To Twirl For Twin Cities—Record Crowd Is Forecast

SUNDAY'S SCHEDULE Appleton at Menasha. Green Bay at Marinette-Menominee. Fond du Lac at Kaukauna. Oshkosh at Sheboygan.

King baseball will be boss again Sunday when the eight clubs of the Wisconsin State Baseball league open their 1923 schedule.

This will be the first time for many years that the Badger cities in the Fox river valley and the northern part of Wisconsin are organized in as large a body as they are in now. Appleton, Sheboygan, Green Bay, Marinette-Menominee, Neenah-Menasha, Kaukauna, Oshkosh and Fond du Lac, members of the state loop, represent an aggregate population of approximately 179,000. This will mean that the rivalry for the state pennant will be one of the hottest in years. Clubs that are due to strict salary clauses, will be held to evenly balanced lineups preventing any one unit, with loads of cash, to run away with the state title.

MANY GOING TO MENASHA The Papermakers, will start the season on the Menasha city ball grounds. Several hundred fans, are expected to be on deck to root for Brautigan's clan. The game will start at 2:45. There will be no special ceremonies at the Menasha grounds to mark the opening but all indications are that every seat will be packed early. Twin City ball club moguls feel that the game will draw sufficiently without any additional attractions.

SLIGHT CHANGES Manager Brautigan will introduce practically the same lineup as he had against the All Stars in the exhibition game a week ago. With Bots Lammers home, the former Kaukauna star, will be placed at short while Brautigan will take his favorite position—guarding third.

With pitchers far from being in best form at this time the battle Sunday afternoon is expected to be a battling one. Appleton's chief moundsman will be Ed "Nip" Lane while the Twin Cities will introduce Harry Rush, who is also the playing manager of the outfit.

The teams are expected to stack up as follows: Appleton Neenah-Menasha. McDermore, c. Thornton, c. Lane, p. Rush, p. Weisgerber, 1b. Leopold, 1b. "Marty" Lammers, 2b. Brady, 2b. "Boots" Lammers, ss. Clift, ss. Brautigan, 3b. Belanske, 3b. Len Smith, 1b. Sheleff, 1b. Sylvester, c. f. Weisgerber, c. f. Beyer, r. f. Russell, r. f. Appleton's reserve list will contain "Red" Smith, Wenzel and Weidell.

BROTHERLY AFFAIR Three sets of brothers are on the Appleton and Twin City lineups. Appleton's first baseman, Weisgerber is a brother to the Menasha centerfielder. While "Red" Smith and Len are brothers as are the Lammers boys. Appleton's own home game is a week off when Kaukauna will invade the city. Moguls Sylvester and Miller, joint owners of the club, plan to have an opening with all the formalities that make the first baseball game, "different." Mayor Henry Reuter will toss the first ball while a parade will precede the contest.

J. H. Coffeen, Green Bay, was appointed to umpire the Appleton-Menasha contest by President T. E. McGillan, who will throw the first ball at Kaukauna.

TWINS ARE READY Marinette—Green Bay will bump into an old friend when the opening game of the State league gets under way here on Sunday because "Hank" Schultz has accepted the terms of the Twins and will toe the slab against the Bays.

Schultz is a veteran pitcher but still has plenty of zip in his hurling arm. The Twins' slab artist is well known in the state league and has the reputation of turning in wins with more than due regularity. Kleveland, former Fondy catcher, has arrived here and is working out behind the bat. He is slated to catch Schultz in Sunday's game. Dombrosky, one of the sluggers of Crystal Falls, Mich., team has been signed by Manager Bresnahan and will perform in the surt garden.

BEBE MAY TOE SLAB Oshkosh—Fred Beebe's Indiana will not open the season at home Monday at least were fortunate enough to draw a hard hitting, speedy playing outfit for their opponents—a team that will give them a real battle from the minute his majesty "the ump" shouts "play ball", until the last man has been retired in the ninth inning.

That club is Billy Liebi's Sheboygan team. Sheboygan last year romped home with the Fox River valley league pennant and they are laboring under the impression that they will repeat this year. They will have to work to do it, however, for they will have at least one tough team to beat.

Beebe has an unusually strong infield and an outfield composed of sure fielding, hard hitting ball tossers. If Bruce Noel goes along at the same place shown by him last Sunday, he will make them all hump. Beebe, himself, may toe the slab for the Indiana, thus giving the fans the first opportunity in years of seeing the former big leaguer in action. With two such pitchers and with Marty Hunkle behind the bat, Oshkosh will have a regular battery, of which the fans may well be proud.

CALLAHAN'S STEAL WINS FOR BRUINS

Chicago Wins 2 To 1 In Tenth From St. Louis Cardinals

St. Louis—Callahan stole home in tenth and Chicago defeated St. Louis on Friday, 2 to 1. Miller swinging for Aldridge in the eighth, did the score with a home run into right field stands. Toney did not allow the visitors to hit until the fifth.

PLAY 13 INNINGS Boston — Marquard pitched Boston to a thirteen inning 1 to 0 victory over Brooklyn on Friday. The winning run came with two out. Marquard opened the thirteenth with a single. Nixon sacrificed. Southworth was walked purposely. With the count three and two on Beeckel, Manager Mitchell substituted Henry to run for Marquard. Henry then was caught off second by a snap throw. Smith to Johnson. Beeckel walked and McInnis singled to left on the first pitch, scoring Southworth. Marquard gave the visitors only six hits.

WILLIAMS GETS SEVENTH Philadelphia — New York won the opening game of the series from Philadelphia on Friday, 11 to 9, in thirteen innings. The locals drove Neft off the hill in the second when they scored seven runs. Meadows hit a circuit drive with three on base, and Williams hit his seventh homerun of the season with two on base. The visitors pounded meadows off the mound in the third, tying the score and won the game in thirteen, when Frisch singled and scored on Young's double. Young took third on the through to the plate, and scored on a wild pitch by Hubbell. The score:

New York .313 000 20000002—11 Philadelphia .070 1000010000—9 Batteries: Scott, Jonnard, Neft and Snyder; Wehnert, Hubbell, Behan, Meadows and Henline.

PIRATES WALLOP REDS Pittsburgh—The Pirates pounded four Cincinnati pitchers hard on Friday and won the second game of the series, keeping their home slate clean with five victories and no defeats. The score was 11 to 6. Grimm slammed out a three bagger, making it seventeen straight games in which he has hit safely. The score:

Cincinnati .000 0011010—6 Pittsburgh .322 000240—11 Batteries: Harris, Abrams, Couch, Rixey and Wingo; Bagby, Glazner and Schmidt.

VE FISHING AND HUNTING COLUMN

By M. J. V. Fose

CALL OF TROUT STREAMS Hundreds of Appletonians, ardent followers of the long, whippy trout rod and lovers of the outdoors have answered nature's call and will depart for their favorite pools Saturday for their first "trip" with the speckled beauties and to get their "touch of gypsy blood" a-tangling with delight by satisfying that long, pent-up feeling that has been hibernating their systems since the season closed.

From various sources reports say that the trout are hitting better this year than they ever have and in view of the fact that recent reports state that high water would "nip" the fishing somewhat.

Automobile after automobile has been passing through the city and only Friday one nearly pushed me off the road, and when I looked at the license it was from Colorado, therefore one can see that "the tourists" have started on their wandering already and are bound for Wisconsin, the playground of tourists.

Hunting new trout streams seems to be the hobby of the "wanderers" and there is something connected with this "hunting" that has appealed to many of the tourists.

Many of the "died in wool" fishermen have their "old lucky spots" picked out and are undoubtedly going to leave today or have left already for the "CALL OF THE OPEN" is so strong that one who has never wielded a rod and reel cannot realize what a trip of this sort means to the follower of the finest sport in the world—fishing.

CLOSED SEASON ON RACOONS A two-year closed season on racoons was imposed Thursday with Governor Blaine's signature to the Goodman bill protecting these animals from hunters.

The author of the new law claims that it was needed to prevent the racoons in Wisconsin from exterminating. Persons killing the animals during the next two years will be prosecuted under the state game laws.

Oklahoma City, Okla.—Billy Britton, Kansas City, won the referee's decision over Billy Conley, local middleweight in a 10 round bout.

KEN GETS SIXTH HOMER AS BROWNS COP FROM INDIANS

McManus Is Banished After Argument With Umpire—Speaker Gets Homer

Cleveland—Four home runs featured Friday's game between St. Louis and Cleveland which the Browns won, 9 to 5. Ken Williams walloped his sixth circuit drive of the season, driving in Foster and Jacobson ahead of him in the seventh inning. Durst, who followed, also put the ball over the right field wall, duplicating his feat of the previous inning.

In the first inning, Speaker hit his first home run of the season on the local grounds, sending Wamby home ahead of him.

Durst broke into the game when McManus was banished in the fourth inning for arguing with Umpire Hildebrand when the latter called him out at the plate. It appeared in the press box that McManus had struck at the umpire, but Hildebrand denies this.

Score: St. Louis .000 000 1431—9 Cleveland .000 101010—5 Batteries: Shocker and Severeid; Metevier, Coveleskie and O'Neill.

TIGERS ARE BLANKED Chicago—Chicago bunched hits behind Francis' wildness and shut out Detroit, 4 to 0, in the first game of the series. Red Faber was in fine form and won his first game of the season in six attempts.

Score: Detroit .000 000 00000—0 Chicago .000 3100000—4 Batteries: Moore, Francis and Bassler; Faber and Schalk.

RUTH IS HURT

New York—Late inning rallies by the Philadelphia Americans enabled them to defeat New York here on Friday in a ten inning game, 8 to 6. McGowan's home run in the ninth tied the score for Philadelphia and his single in the tenth drove in Hauser and Miller with the winning runs. Ruth slightly injured his left arm when he fell completely over a board fence in rightfield, tumbling completely out of the playing field. Caloway of Philadelphia injured a leg on the same play, trying to stretch his hit into a triple. Both men remained in the game.

Philadelphia .200 1000212—8 New York .000 40000200—6 Batteries: Ogden, Kinney, Harris, and Perkins; Jones, Mays, Hoyt and Schatz.

WASHINGTON BEATS BOSTON

Washington—Washington took the opening game of the series from Boston on Friday, 7 to 4. It was a free hitting, loosely pitched contest, the Red Sox using five hurlers. Wade got a home run over the right field fence. Boston .002 200000—4 Washington .030 00400—7 Batteries: Black, Fullerton, O'Doul, Piercy, Ferguson and Picinich; Russell, Hollsworth and Ruel.

HOME PLAYERS TO MEET GREENVILLE IN FIRST CONTEST

Amateur League To Start Ball Rolling Sunday Afternoon

Simultaneous with the official opening of the State league the Fox River Valley Home Players league, of which Appleton is a member, will start its "tournaments."

Appleton will play an exhibition game with Greenville, hostilities to take place beginning at 2:45 in Brandt ball park. Last minute changes were necessary due to Oshkosh having arranged a game with a non-league team before the schedule was drawn up.

The league, organized by George "Stormy" Kromer, is intended to give local talent a chance on the diamond and to develop players for the state league. Admission fees will be limited to 25 cents.

Following are the games for Sunday: Menasha at Green Bay. Oshkosh at Wausau, exhibition. Kaukauna at Fond du Lac. DePere at Kimberly.

Manager Joseph Mayeske of the Appleton amateurs, is still without uniforms for all the players. Behnke & Jense, local clothiers, promised the youngsters the suits of the last year's Behnke and Jense nine. The team is willing to rent the uniforms from last year's players if they will report to the Hotel Appleton at 7 o'clock Saturday evening when Mayeske and his players will hold a meeting. Any local players desiring to try out are urged to be present at Brandt park at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Manager Mayeske of the local clubs has announced the following lineup: Rod Ashman, catch; Odis Weinkamp, pitch; Al Gosha, first base; Joseph Mayeske, second; Ed Zuehlke, shortstop; "Sonny" Turner, third; Arnold Hillman, leftfield; Ed Krancous, centerfield; "Cave" Radtke, rightfield; Walter Sokol and John Jenefsky will be in the reserve.

Do you know Baseball?

by Billy Evans

Questions 1—If, with a runner on first, the batsman hits a home run, and the runner on first fails to touch third, does that have any effect on the man who hit the home run?

2—To what distance can the pitcher's mound be elevated?

3—Has the pitcher the right to dislocate the ball?

4—If a batsman after missing the third strike starts for his bench, believing the ball has been caught, and then discovers that the ball has gotten away from the catcher, has he a right to make an attempt to reach first base, or is he out for running out of the line?

5—Explain what is meant by a force-out?

Answers 1—The failure of a preceding runner to touch a base shall in no way affect the status of a succeeding runner who has touched each base in its proper order unless two men are out at the time.

2—The pitcher's plate shall not be more than 15 inches higher than the base lines or the home plate.

3—The pitcher has no right to dislocate the ball. Such an act on his part entails for his immediate removal from the game.

4—The batsman has such a right, unless in running he ran out of line to avoid being touched. When he takes it for granted that the ball has been caught, and instead of immediately starting for the base, as he should have, he simply delays his getting there, and makes the distance that much longer.

5—A force-out can only be made when a base runner legally loses the right to the base he occupies by reason of the batsman becoming a base runner, and he is thereby forced to vacate.

NEW LONDON TO HAVE WRESTLING SHOW, MAY 11

New London is to have a wrestling show next Friday, May 11, when Mike Stein, the Milwaukee grappler is to meet Morris Hickey of New London in the Armory at New London.

Stein, who is a visitor in Appleton, claims to have met such men as Jimmy Donatrol, Young Zyzako, Frank Golth, Farmer Burns and Strangler Lewis. The match with Lewis, he said, took place two years ago in Los Angeles when they grappled for two hours and 40 minutes to a draw.

Stein agreed to get one fall in a half hour or lose the match to Hickey. Preliminaries are being arranged.

HOREMAN'S MANAGER HERE

V. J. Killoran, Chicago, manager of Edouard Horemans' Belgian, champion of the three cushion artists of Europe who is touring United States, has been an Appleton visitor the last few days. Killoran has arranged a match for Horemans in the Palace billiard room at Menasha Saturday night. Manager Killoran declared that he and the European champ will be on their way to South America soon.

LAWRENCE AND MARQUETTE MEET ON FIELD TODAY

First Athletic Contest Between Institutions In About Five Years

Lawrence and Marquette athletes exchanged felicitations for the first time in five years when the Milwaukee university men and the Appletonians met at 1 o'clock Saturday at Lawrence field for several hours competition in track work.

Cochran Conrad M. Jennings and a large squad of Hilltoppers, including many stars of the famous Marquette football and basketball teams, arrived in the city Saturday morning. The visitors were all in fine form, having participated in Drake relay games and other meets. The Maruquetters were expected to have a considerable advantage over Coach Fred Trezie's men, who are taking part in the first meet this year and who had only two week's practice.

The contest was arranged for 1 o'clock to give the Hilltoppers a chance to take an early train for Milwaukee.

JOCK MALONE IS BEATEN BY WELLS

St. Paul—Bermundsey Billy Wells, champion welterweight boxer of England, will seek a match with Mickey Walker, holder of the world's welterweight title as the result of his victory Friday night over Jock Malone of St. Paul.

It was Wells' second win over the local middleweight within a month. He won the newspaper decision on both occasions, in 10-round, no decision affairs.

The English outboxed and out-punched Malone Friday night. Their first meeting here Malone was in poor condition due to a cold and to the fact that he was forced to reduce

Joannes Grounds To Hold School House—Moguls Start Work On New Field

Green Bay — The league baseball grounds at Hugemeister park, now known as Joannes park, will soon be a thing of the past. The school board has ordered the owners of the stands and fence to get off the lot as it is planned to start construction on the new East high school as soon as possible. There is a possible chance that the opening game against Sheboygan here on Sunday May 13 may be played on the old lot. But if it is, it will be the "first and last" game played there.

The baseball club has secured a lease on a tract of land near the Onida plant and it is planned to start construction on the new field as soon as the necessary plans are completed. The new plot of land includes six acres and those who have given it the once-over pronounce it ideal for a ball diamond.

WILL MOVE STANDS

It is probable that the stands and fence from the old park will be set up at the new field. Arrangements are now under way to make the transfer. The ball club officials are pulling every string possible to make the change in playing fields without disturbing the Wisconsin State league schedule of games.

It is probable that when the Bays stop on the field in Marinette Sunday afternoon, the team will shape up as follows: Outfield, Briemader, Logan, and Williams; 3b. Moakler, ss. Metten; 2b. Decker; 1b. Brity; c. Glick and p. Smithson with Charlie Mathys and McDonald in reserve

Malone fouled Wells in the first round but Bermundsey refused to quit. Approximately 6,500 fans saw the fight and the receipts were about $13,700.

Ample Power-for-Weight Gives Amazing Performance

EASILY the strong man handles the hundred-pound weight which the weaker man can scarcely lift. Just so the underpowered car falters where the full-powered Jewett performs with ease. For it is not power alone that determines performance. It is power for weight that counts.

The Paige-built Jewett has only 11 1/2 pounds of weight for each cubic inch piston displacement. So Jewett will beat any car up any hill you choose; and accelerate 5 to 25 miles per hour in 7 seconds. These are Jewett's proofs of Jewett's abundant power for its weight. And it is a sturdy, 2805-pound car—not a "light six." Would you like to try a Jewett? Say so.

LEGAL NOTICES

Council Chambers, Appleton, Wis. Committee of the Whole arose at 9:40 P. M., May 4, 1923, with all members present and reported as follows: Recommend That city attorney be and is hereby instructed to proceed under Chapter 67 R. S. of 1921, for issuance of $250,000 Junior High School bonds to aid in purchasing site, erecting and equipping two Junior high schools, and hereby recommend and equip the Fourth district school building, so that it may be used in part for Junior high school purposes.

On motion that the report of the Committee of the Whole be adopted, the ayes and nays were called, all declared.

ALFALFA'S FOOD VALUE SHOWN IN FEEDING DISPLAY

Feeder Steers And Hogs On Exhibition In Madison Prove Contentions

Madison — Superiority of alfalfa to clover hay when used in the fattening ration of steers was announced at the beef cattle and swine feeding demonstration at the Wisconsin college of agriculture. Two lots of feeder steers used in the experiment were on exhibition when the results of the trial were announced by Prof. J. G. Fuller before a gathering of beef feeders and others at the stock pavilion.

Results gained in the hog feeding trials conducted at the same time and announced by Prof. E. B. Morrison after the beef demonstration, indicate that when swine are fed efficient, well balanced rations including animal by-products and either good pasture or alfalfa hay, there is usually no need of using any mineral supplement except common salt. This announcement is considered a very important one for all pork producers, for no question is now discussed more frequently among farmers than the feeding of mineral supplements or mineral mixtures to livestock, Professor Morrison stated.

Steers in lot receiving clover hay gained weight at the cost of $11.62 per hundredweight, while those in the lot receiving alfalfa gained at a cost of $10.16, Professor Fuller stated. The ration in each case was balanced. In addition to hay the steers received ear corn, cottonseed meal, and corn silage.

The reason for which the experiment was conducted, Professor Morrison stated, was to determine what the result would be when the two lots of steers fed different lots of clover, in a balanced ration. In previous experiments conducted by other stations the two hays were compared ton for ton, instead of in relation to the gains made when fed in a balanced ration as they were here.

Discussing the swine feeding experiment, Professor Morrison said in part: "When for any reason it is necessary to feed a ration low in lime to swine, then one should be sure to furnish plenty of this mineral by adding finely ground limestone, air slaked lime, chalk or wood ashes. When there is a possibility of phosphorus being lacking as well as calcium, it is best to supply both these minerals in such forms as steamed bone meal; spent bone black, or even ground rock phosphate.

"There is no evidence to show that there is any loss from acid in additional ingredients as charcoal, sulphur, Glauber's salts and copperas which are often incorporated in mineral mixtures now being sold."

U. S. Egg Grading IS PLAN OF BUREAU

Tentative grades for eggs are proposed by the United States department of agriculture. The grades are based upon quality factors indicated by condition of the shell, air cell, albumen and yolk and by development of the germ size, color and weight. The plan of grading is as follows: U. S. extra, U. S. A, U. S. 1, U. S. 2, and U. S. 3. Two grades are provided for eggs of sound dirty shells, namely, U. S. dirties No. 1 and U. S. dirties No. 2. Eggs with cracked shells are graded as U. S. checks. Full description of the grades may be obtained upon request to the bureau of agricultural economics, United States department of agriculture, Washington.

Efficiency and economy in marketing will result from the general adoption of standard grades for eggs, in the opinion of poultry marketing officials of the department. The department has given extensive study to the question of egg standardization, and is offering the suggested grades to the egg industry for trial.

COUNCIL OPPOSES TIEUP OF POWER SITES BY STATE

Resolution Points Out Hardship To Industries Under 6-Year Suspension

The common council at its special meeting Wednesday evening declared, itself opposed to bill 606A, the so-called "water power" bill, especially that part of the bill which carries the provision that would prohibit the development of water power sites for six years.

OPPOSING THE BILL

The resolution opposing the bill was submitted by Appleton Chamber of Commerce through Mayor Henry Reuter and was agreed upon unanimously. Attention of the legislature was called to the fact that the bill in its present form would work hardship on the industry of this community, which is to a great extent dependent upon the water power resources.

Selection of a building inspector was again postponed because of the fact that the city plan commission, to whom the applications for that position had been referred, had found it impossible to meet since the last council meeting. Friday's meeting of the council as a committee of the whole was held somewhat earlier than was expected. An attempt was made to give the plan commission power to make the appointment so as to relieve the engineering office of the extra burden as soon as possible, but Theodore Berg, city attorney, held that the commission authorized by law to make appointments.

Wise Driver Will Not Be Fooled By So-called "Econ-omies"

When summer comes, prepare to rave again against the high price of gasoline.

But don't go any further. Don't be misled into buying a substitute that is claimed to be "cheaper and more economical." Because "there ain't no such animal."

The farmer said that of the graffe when it was actually before him, but the American motorist has nothing as yet that can prove its superiority over gasoline. Scientists who are testing certain fuel combinations expect to bring out a worthy substitute, but they are still experimenting.

ALCOHOL COSTLY

Alcohol is being used in Cuba and other countries as motor fuel—but it's cheaper there than it is in this country. Gasoline, despite its inferiority, is more economical to use here because of its lower price. Even when this price will be raised considerably by the heightened summer demand.

There are innumerable substitutes for gasoline—any hydro-carbon will do the work but not a single one has been found as practicable and economical as the fuel in general use today.

Chemists of the U. S. Bureau of Mines in Washington are testing out numerous forms of hydro-carbons for motor use, and so are engineers of private automobile manufacturing firms.

ANTI-KNOCK FOUND

What they have found so far has been an anti-knock compound which increases the efficiency of the gasoline now in use. Engines are being tested in connection with this fuel mixture, so as to produce certain changes in their construction that will make for better driving and get more mileage out of the gasoline consumed.

Even this anti-knock compound is not yet ready for use. Eventually it will be added to every gallon of gasoline put into the tank, but the motorist would not as yet economize by using it. Its cost is high, because it is hard to get.

Outside of this anti-knock compound no hydro-carbon has been found to replace gasoline as more beneficial and economical. Many pills and other substitutes may be foisted on the driving public, but the wise driver will not be fooled.

FINDS NO CAUSE FOR FOX TO FLOOD

Upper River High But Not Dangerous, Heinemann Observes On Trip

Because the water in Wisconsin river had receded eight feet as indicated by the city record, the river is no longer any danger of an overflow into the upper Fox river, according to Fred V. Heinemann, who returned home from Madison by way of Portage Friday.

The former district attorney paid particular attention to the height of water in both Wisconsin and Fox rivers at Portage and said that while water in Wisconsin river was receding the level of water in upper Fox river was "gradually getting higher and much of the lowland was overflowed. He did not anticipate any damage, however.

Mrs. Heinemann and his party, which consisted of Mrs. Heinemann and Mrs. T. A. Willy found concrete pavement the greater part of the way and made only one detour on highway 31 between Beaver Dam and Columbus. The only gaps in the pavement are between Madison and Columbus and a short one between Columbus and Beaver Dam. The distance between Appleton and Madison by way of Portage is approximately 135 miles.

WINTER CROPS TO FAIL IF NO RAINS OCCUR

Winter rye, alfalfa and clover is in immediate need of rain and unless a warm soaking shower arrives shortly these crops will be seriously damaged, according to farmers, who say the absence of the usual April showers has retarded growth of the crops.

Spring seeding of small grains is about completed in the southern part of the country. While in the northern part farmers are just getting their work well under way.

After rye, oats and barley have been seeded, the farmers will spend the interim between now and May 15 when corn will be planted, repairing fences and fixing up the roads for the summer and doing other odd jobs around the farm.

ELECTRIC FLAT IRON IS CAUSE OF BLAZE

An electric flat iron caused a small fire in the home of Reno V. Clark, 717 Franklin-st., at about 5:50 Friday evening. The heated iron-set fire to the ironing board, but otherwise no damage was caused and there was little for the firemen to do.

Hot ashes deposited on the wooden conduit for steam pipes of Lawrence college, near the corner of Alton and Lawrence at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon caused a little fire that was easily extinguished by the department.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

JUNK DEALER WILL GET HIS SHARE OF CARS BEFORE LONG

THE used car junk man is going to have his innings yet.

That will come when we will have more automobiles on the streets and highways than are needed to accommodate our population. In other words, when the automobile market will be saturated.

Some authorities put this saturation point at 20,000,000. There are 12,500,000 motor vehicles in use today at the present rate of increase, the 20,000,000 mark ought to be reached in less than five years.

Then will come "the day" for the auto junk man. Even today his is not a losing business. Since 1899, statisticians say 3,600,000 cars have been junked, out of a total production of more than 16,000,000. But this is low compared with the added annual production of motor cars.

SERVICE ESSENTIAL

With no more new cars to sell to new prospects, however, each new automobile produced will mean an old one junked. There will be no re-sales, under this system. Instead, service will be the chief business of automobile dealers, and a car once bought will be retained by the original purchaser until it is actually ready for the junk heap.

Thus will the perplexing used car situation be settled.

Already signs of this solution exist. Some of the higher class automobile manufacturers and dealers refuse to take in cars, as part payment for the purchase of their new cars.

Some have gone so far as to refuse to sell a prospect's used car, if he consents to the purchase of a new machine.

PLAN SCRAPPING

The report is current that a few of the high priced car manufacturers have grouped together and agreed to scrap a proportionate amount of their used cars monthly. One out of every five is the reported proportion.

In the end, however, the junk man will get them all. Or nearly all, for some will be dismantled by the farmer for farm machinery, while others will be burned or destroyed by their owners for the insurance.

But even those wrecked at railroad crossing will not escape the junk heap.

"BILLIE" BAKER MOST POPULAR BOY IN CITY

"Billie" Baker, two-day old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker is holding the city record for the most popular young boy in the city. Already the girls are showing him marked attention and at the beginning of his second day in Appleton, he was the recipient of a bouquet all for himself.

Mrs. Baker, who before and after her marriage taught Latin at Appleton high school, was one of the members of the faculty. On the occasion of the birth of her son, the Vergil class of the high school demonstrated its affection for her by sending a bouquet and in the package was enclosed another bouquet for the "small son."

WANT AD TIPS

A Quoted Price Helps Sell

The advertisement of a shrewd beekeeper illustrates well a great merchandising principle. At regular intervals, all through the year, this advertiser offers extracted honey. His Want Ad is very brief, "Best extracted honey; 10 lbs. for $1.50; bring container." This little message has found scores of regular customers and sold many hundreds of pounds of honey. It is successful because the beekeeper quotes his price.

The beekeeper is in a position to sell extracted honey at a bargain. He sells direct, eliminating a middleman. He can readily quote a price which is very cheap beside a retail store price.

Other beekeepers can, too. The difference between this beekeeper and most others is that he realizes the tremendous power of a quoted bargain price in a Want Ad. His price fluctuates somewhat with market conditions, but always he quotes it and always it is plainly a bargain. Readers know it is a bargain. And many of them buy.

A newspaper reader owned an old typewriter. The type was rather worn—the alignment was not perfect, but there were still years of use in the machine. For a student, or other person who would use it comparatively little, it would do first-rate. This reader inserted a Want Ad on the machine. He mentioned a price—$18.75. He found a buyer almost instantly. The price sold it.

When you are undecided whether to mention a price in your Want Ad, the questions to consider are these: Is my price going to help me sell this article? Will readers realize my price is a bargain? When you can answer these questions affirmatively, by all means quote your price in your Want Ad.

On the other hand, if you feel that readers will not appreciate what a bargain your price is, don't mention it, but say instead, "Bargain price," "very reasonable," or "cheap." (All Rights Reserved)
